Tiger and Zoya live in a remote place away from RAW scouts and ISI. Officially declared dead in the ISI and RAW files, Tiger and Zoya have a son named Junior. During a dark night in Iraq, US journalists typed a warning message to the CIA before he was slaughtered by several ISC guards. While rallying in Ikrit, ISC leader Abu Usman was shot in the arm of the Iraqi Army and taken to the city hospital.

Usman took the host of Indian and Pakistani nurses to make the hospital the headquarters. The US decided to launch an airplane in the city. An Indian nurse named Maria called the Indian embassy in Baghdad to tell the incident. The CIA gave RAW chairman Shenoy to rescue nurses after they would withstand air strikes.

Flash back shows Tiger broke the chain and saved Zoya and fled knowing RAW and ISI would not leave them if they returned with the nurses. This explains Tiger and Zoya having adopted Hassan. Tiger is hiding once more and convincing Shenoy he will always be there for the country.
